

Phone System Management

Perfectly managed telephony keeps your operation running and your Clients happy.

Trust Bleuwire™ to Keep Your Phones Ringing

If your company uses a VoIP telephone system, you know that the cost savings over traditional systems can be quickly offset by the skyrocketing costs of management, maintenance and support. That includes ensuring not only that the system is online, but that it delivers the highest Quality of Service (QoS) for your staff, partners and Clients. Bleuwire™ brings those costs back down to earth by providing enterprise-level management services at a fraction of the cost of handling it in-house.

▶ Be Confident with Constant Monitoring and Support

Bleuwire™ monitors and manages every component of a VoIP phone system. We'll perform 24/7/365 monitoring of equipment, software and network. We'll also take on the responsibility of ensuring you reach the highest QoS of the switches and managed routers' voice components. Monitoring and support is based out of the Bleuwire™ VoIP Operations Center, which is fully dedicated to remote issue prevention and resolution.

▶ Ensure the Security of Your Phones

Once you take telephony to the Internet, you open yourself up to risks of hacking and attacks. Bleuwire™ will build a wall of protection against that. We'll start with a security audit to ensure your phone system has all the updated patches, software and hardware necessary to ensure basic security. We'll maintain continuity of service by handling configuration backups in case disaster strikes. We'll be constantly tracking and installing the latest updates.

▶ Maintenance

Bleuwire™ performs routine, regular remote and onsite preventative maintenance. We'll inventory your telecommunications assets to ensure service contracts are current and components are inventoried and tracked.
